

The 1918 Instant

FOREWORD

At last the time has almost arrived when we must part. And shall we forget each other and the happy days spent together here? If we do, the object of this book will have been in vain.

We have tried to make this a record of the leading events of this, our last year at Indiana. We have aimed to show Indiana as it is, to the members of the class of '18, we hope this book will be a treasure ever increasing in value as the years go by.

This book is not perfect nor do we claim it to be. We have done our best and offer no apology for anything that appears or fails to appear herein.

And now it is in your hands. If it meets your approval we shall feel repaid for the time and labor spent in its preparation.

HISTORY OF THE INSTANO

The importance of a school annual was felt a number of years before the Instano was published, and an attempt was made by the Senior Class of 1888 to publish such a book. It was called the "Clonian," consisted of 122 pages and was somewhat smaller in size than the Instano. Then for years no such publication was attempted. The class of 1912 put out the first volume of the Instano. This volume was successful from every standpoint but a financial one. The debt, however, was overcome by the aid of additional taxation upon the Seniors, and by the kindness of Dr. Ament.

Undaunted by the difficulties that confronted the class of 1912 the Class of 1913 set out to make a better and larger book the following year. Through the untiring efforts of Gladstone A. Carmalt they carried out their purpose, and the second volume appeared, a handsomely bound book of 327 pages.

Mismanagement brought financial failure upon the Class of 1914; otherwise their book was a success.

The edition of the Class of 1915 was a handsomely bound and artistically arranged book of 344 pages. This class was also confronted by the difficulties characteristic of Instano publication.

The Instano of the Class of 1916 is unique in form and cover design, a book of which the class may well be proud.

The 1917 Instano is characterized by its simplicity of form and artistic arrangement. Its success is due largely to Editor-in-Chief Carl Berg.

A notable factor which caused the delay in that publication, and the absence of a number of cuts was due to unfavorable shipping conditions brought about by the war.

JOHN A. H. KEITH

The Class of 1918 has had the privilege of being influenced by the personalities of two principals, the former, Dr. James E. Ament, and the present, John A. H. Keith.

Mr. Keith graduated from the State Normal School at Normal, Illinois, in 1894, having had two years experience in country school work. The following two years he spent in the Training Department of the Normal School as Principal of the Grammar Room, resigning that position in 1896 and spending three years at Harvard University, taking the degree of A. B. in 1899 and A. M. in 1900. While at Harvard he was elected to the Phi Beta Kappa Fraternity, the entrance to which requires high scholarship. He was twice a member of the Harvard debating team against Yale, and coached two Harvard Debating Teams against Princeton. After finishing at Harvard he was elected as assistant to Dr. John W. Cook, president of the De Kalb Normal School, 1899-1906, devoting most of his time to the field of psychology and pedagogy. He then returned to the State Normal School of Illinois as Principal of the Training Department from 1906 to October, 1907, when he was elected President of the State Normal School at Oshkosh, Wisconsin. He remained in that position from October 1907 to August 1917, resigning to come to Indiana. He came splendidly recommended.

In 1905 Mr. Keith published a book on "Elementary Education, Its Processes and Problems," and has contributed largely to educational literature.

We already know that he has unusual ability as an educator and an executive; we have already found that he has inspiring ideals for us as to the purpose of the normal school.

We know he will do his utmost for our Alma Mater. May his work be fully appreciated by all Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors, and Alumni. We offer the hand of assistance any time it is desired.

JANE E. LEONARD, M. S., A. M.

Miss Jane E. Leonard, the preceptress of our school, who comes of fine old Quaker ancestry, spent her life as a student and teacher. Her life's work has been in the Normal Schools in Millersville and Indiana. She came to Indiana when the school was first opened in 1875, and has lived and worked here ever since. This has resulted in a great love for the school and the town, such as is possible only to a life spent like hers. Miss Leonard has kept abreast of the times by associating with new teachers and others of learning and ideas. Scholarly people, educators, and her old students make up a part of her wide acquaintance with people in many walks of life. She spends her summers at a school in Chautauqua, in travel or in some course of study, improving and growing in mind.

Miss Leonard has traveled extensively throughout the United States and Europe; and was planning a visit to Turkey, Greece and Palestine just before the war broke out. She retains and shows her enthusiasm for the work and her love for her students, old and new. All the students highly esteem her, but those who have the privilege of her classes, realize not only the richness of her character and learning, but the rare privilege of an association which is a delightful memory for a lifetime. It is the wish of the Senior Class of 1918 that there be many years of work and happiness at Indiana yet in store for Miss Leonard.

WALTER M. WHITMYRE, A. B., A. M.

Walter M. Whitmyre, preceptor, head of the Department of History and track and baseball coach of I. S. N. S., was graduated from Jeanette High School in 1905. He entered Syracuse University the same year and was graduated with an A. B. degree. In 1909-10 and during the summer of 1917, Mr. Whitmyre attended the Harvard Graduate School, receiving an A. M. degree from that university.

In 1910-11 Mr. Whitmyre taught in Jeanette High School and later held a position in the Shattuck Boys School, Faribault, Minnesota, as teacher of history and coach in baseball and football; then as head of the Department of History in the High School of Dubuque, Iowa. He resigned from the latter in the summer of 1917, to accept his present position. During his short stay here, Mr. Whitmyre and his family have made many friends.

THE HISTORY OF I. S. N. S.

At the Teachers Institute in Indiana in 1869 and 1871 the first plans for a normal school at Indiana were conceived, and, the idea once resolved upon, the normal school rapidly grew into a reality. One of the most beautiful locations in the town was selected for the new school and masons and carpenters were soon at work. Indiana State Normal School was formally opened on May 17, 1875, and a distinguished speaker of the day declared it to be the finest building of its kind in the country. The original building, although now greatly enlarged, still stands, as a monument to its founders, and in honor of the first president of the board of trustees is called John Sutton Hall.

If the old building could speak to us what stories it would have to tell of the first years of I. S. N. S., when everyone lived and went to classes in the one building; when there were more boys than girls, when everyone had to rise at 6 a. m., when each student had to sweep his room daily, be present at Chapel exercises every morning, and was warned against boxes of cats from home! In those days Boies Xenophon's Anabasis was used in the class rooms, and after successfully passing the state boards the student received a degree of Bachelor of the Elements, or after two years additional study, Master of the Elements.

The first principal, E. B. Fairfield, later Chancellor of the University of Nebraska, did much for the school. The trustees labored against adverse criticism at first, for they had on their hands no small undertaking. Before this institution could receive any aid from the state the school had to be built and include a chapel seating at least six hundred. Through the efforts of that first board of trustees and their own private funds our school and chapel were built. The ideal of the originators was high, the building unusually large, the furnishings costly. Soon, however, the school was established on a firm financial basis and took its place, second to none in the state.

The growth of the school was gradual and continual and by 1877 the students numbered 304. Improvements were made on the campus and in the rooms.

Lawn tennis, croquet and baseball were provided for amusements outside and a complete gymnasium was fitted up within the building.

In 1878-79 a change in courses was made and besides the Elementary and Scientific there were the Commercial, College and Music courses. The same year a lecture course, including a lecture on Shoddy by Rev. D. K. Nesbitt, of Pittsburgh and ten illustrated lectures on Natural History by the Hon. Thomas Barlow, of New York, was given for the benefit of the students. The next year a reference library and reading room was fitted out and the literary societies were formed.

The first material addition to the school was in 1893, when a boy's dormitory was erected on the campus.

The building burned in 1907, and was completely destroyed but no lives were lost and the ruins were hardly cold before a larger and better building for the boys was being planned. The new building was called Silas M. Clarke Hall in honor of the board's second president.

In 1893 a Model School, containing eight large and airy rooms, was erected on the northern part of the campus and called A. W. Wilson Hall after the third president of the board. The next additions were in 1903, when the recitation hall was erected between the model school and John Sutton Hall, and called after the first and only preceptress of I. S. N. S., our beloved Miss Leonard. The same year saw the addition of a wing at the west of John Sutton Hall, known as Thomas Sutton Hall, and containing the conservatory, dining room, kitchens and laundry. The former dining room was then turned into Recreation Hall.

Many improvements have been made since then, including an expensive power plant, the ambulatory to Recreation Hall and annexes to the dormitory which provided many fine rooms for the girls as well as a new library.

All of these things greatly modified and improved the appearance of the school, but perhaps the greatest changes have been gradual ones, or improvement in little things that have in the end made Indiana Normal the splendid and beautiful institution that it is. One telephone booth was where the Red Room now is, and not so long ago the Blue Room served as a kitchen for the girls' private use. The walls were not cut out in the attractive fashion they now are, but one small door opened upon a room furnished with a gas stove, sink and table. Some time later, the candy kitchen in the basement was fitted out for the girls. Twelve years ago the Green Room boasted the only statue and picture ornaments of the corridors and reception rooms. Our well equipped infirmary is not the least of the improvements, although we may not fully appreciate it until we have had—shall I say misfortune— to spend some of our time there.

During all this time the student growth increased steadily until it reached 1500, although the war conditions of the past year have brought us below that mark.

The thought and personality of the long line of principals, Miss Leonard and the board have made I. S. N. S. what it is, each incoming principal having given his own particular and spiritual contribution to its growth. The present principal, John A. H. Keith, has so complete a grasp of the function of the normal school in the state that his administration cannot fail to increase the efficiency of the teachers of Pennsylvania.

The purpose of the school is to maintain a high standard of excellence both as to scholarship and attainments in Model school work, and preserve the value of the Indiana State Normal diploma. With this aim in view it will go steadily progressing and improving as in years gone by and will continue to hold to its place among institutions of its kind as "second to none."

Indiana has sent out over thirty-seven hundred graduates not including the class of 1918, which will add about three hundred and sixty more.

Tuesday morning of Commencement week, the annual business meeting of the Alumni Association is held in Chapel. At this time the Senior Class is elected to membership in the association. That evening the annual Alumni Banquet and Dance is held. The Association also holds a banquet each year in one of the prominent hotels in Pittsburgh for the Alumni of Western Pennsylvania. We hope that a greater number will attend this year, making the reunion a rousing success.

The Normal catalogue of each year contains a revised Alumni Register and class directory so far as known. It is expected that each graduate will notify the school of all changes in names, address or occupation in order that the list may be kept as nearly correct as possible. The Normal Herald and all publications will be sent free to all graduates upon request. Professor M. C. Gordon, chairman on the revision of the Alumni Registry, will appreciate information regarding the graduates of Indiana.

This being the first year at Indiana for Principal John A. H. Keith we must co-operate with him in his work. Much can be done by the Alumni. Loyalty to our Alma Mater at all times should be unquestioned.

The Alumni Reunion at Indiana is one of the most enjoyable features of the year. It is an enthusiastic crowd when our predecessors return, bringing others with them, their wives, husbands, children or grandchildren. This is the time when old and new have the opportunity to meet, and when discussions of the past, present and future reveal to you the happiest times of your life. The Alumni are very loyal to their Alma Mater. Why not come and enjoy these glad times. Send in your name to Miss Leonard, co-operate with her, and help enjoy the fun.

THE SENIOR CLASS

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1918

PART I.

INTRODUCTION: It has always been a custom with the great people of the world to record their events in history, so it is altogether fitting and proper that the Class of 1918 should do likewise.

ORIGIN AND GROWTH: The Class of 1918 of Indiana Normal received its first members in the year 1914. (*) The Freshmen class numbered seventy. The outlook was indeed promising, but they promised more than they were able to fulfill, for of these seventy only 10 were able to withstand the struggle and graduate in four years. The brave ten are: Mary Fisher, Margery Galer, Lillian Graff, Mary E. Marshall, Helen Martin, Virginia Peoples, Jean Remaley, Ruth Ritts, Miriam Shaffer and Dorothy Stonebach. The following year the class received an increase of about seventy-four. In the Fall of 1916, the great body of the class arrived, over two hundred high school students. At present (March 20, 1918) we number two hundred seventy-nine.

JUNIOR YEAR

ORGANIZATION: The first two weeks were hard for the newcomers and most of them suffered from a peculiar malady, () homesickness. But time cured the disease and soon the Juniors adapted themselves to their surroundings. Realizing quite early that "in union their is strength," an appeal for organization was made. It was answered by Mr. John E. Smith, who called "the young hopefuls" together and helped them organize themselves into what was then known as the Junior Class. They chose as their motto: "Like our Eagle, Upward, Onward, Ever Soaring," and as their colors, Purple and White. An election took place which showed the following returns: President, W. Victor List; Vice-President, Vera Davis; Secretary, William Chrise; Treasurer, Nell Dixon.

BATTLE: Early in October, the Juniors prepared to meet the Seniors in open battle on the () Normal Campus. Both armies advanced flaunting their banners triumphantly, the skirmish lasted for about an hour and finally the Battle for Colors ended, neither side being victorious.

FEBRUARY 17, 1917: The routine was unbroken for several months save by occasional "(*) monthly quizzes." It was with great joy, therefore, that those in training looked forward to the memorable day, February 17, '17, the day of Junior promenade. Feasting and dancing were the () main diversions. Useless to say, everyone enjoyed himself.

THE TEST: The latter part of June, a Board of State Examiners visited Indiana to inspect those in training. The () questions fired at the Juniors were bravely met, and thanks to their preparedness, they were victorious.

THE DEPARTURE: School was now over, and the jubilant Seniors of the coming term departed for home to spend their vacation.

PART II. SENIOR YEAR

THE RETURN: July and August passed quickly by and with the approach of September, great preparations were made for the return to Training School. Some had been advanced during the summer and upon returning found that their new duties were connected with the Model School. They went to work with a will and soon became (†) expert makers of (*) "Plans." Two became Faculty and remained so during the entire year, Emmeline Patterson, Assistant Librarian, and Ellen Peterson, Assistant in Commercial Department.

OFFICERS OF THE CLASS: Many meetings were held during the years '17 and '18, in order to discuss facts of interest to all. Committees were appointed and officers elected. Those representing the class at present are: President, William Chrise; Vice-President, Helen McDanel; Secretary, Mary E. Kelly; Treasurer, Harry Fee.

(‡) IDLEWOOD: On the second of October, after a preliminary engagement with the Juniors, the Seniors with some of the Faculty departed for Idlewood. Until noon, dancing was the main diversion. When the call for lunch was sounded everyone was "there." The feast consisted of sandwiches, cheese, crackers, cakes, pickles, beans, bananas and coffee. Shortly after this, obedient to Miss Leonard's wishes, the Seniors () returned to Normal.

SENIOR DANCE: To cap the climax for the month of October, it was decided to have the Senior Dance on the twenty-seventh. Richl's Orchestra from Pittsburgh was selected to take charge of the music. It is due to the diligent work of the Dance Committee that the affair was such a success, and we can safely say that it surpassed any previous Senior Dance.

HONOR MEMBERS OF THE CLASS: The Senior Class was represented in many school activities. On the Girls' Basketball Team we have Evelyn Bollman,

Edith Campbell, Mildred Barr, Alice Gettys, Clara Higgon, Laura Gray, Erma McCormick, Pauline Roth and Edna Walker. The Seniors on the Football Team were Lyman Walbridge and James Hyde. The Senior officers of the Erodelphian Literary Society are: President, Mary E. Kelly; Vice-President, Cecelia Keck; Recording Secretary, Alice Long; Financial Secretary, Miriam McKee; while those of the Hyghenian are: Vice-President, Stanton Davis; Recording Secretary, Nellie Oliver; Financial Secretary, Vera Davis. The class was represented during the Winter Term in the Lincoln Debating Club by William Chrise, John A. Ackerson, Vice-President, and Stanton L. Davis, Secretary. The Senior speakers in the Open Debate were: Affirmative, Champion, Stanton L. Davis; Colleague, William A. Chrise. Negative, James F. Hyde, Harry W. Fee. Marion Bambrick, Miriam McKee, Mary Silcott, Lyman Walbridge and Mart Foller figured in the play, "His Excellency, the Governor." The Senior officers of the Y. W. C. A. are: President, Emmeline Patterson; Treasurer, Helen McDanel; Secretary, Mary Fenton. One of our members, Miss Eliza Keller, appeared in Chapel during the Winter Term and spoke on "Economy Among Women During the War."

SENIORS IN THE GREAT WORLD WAR: In the face of the great world war in which we are engaged, we are proud to say that many of our boys have volunteered to do their share to help win the struggle. The girls have been helping in their own way by knitting and making surgical dressings, while the class as a whole donated money to help build and equip libraries for the soldiers. Many of the boys left last Spring to take up work on the farms, others did not return to Indiana in the Fall of 1917, while others left during the Senior year. Those representing the class up to the present time are: John Ackerson at Camp Grant, Illinois; Buff Coleman, Coast Artillery, Fort Washington, Md.; Raymond Fleming at Camp Lee; Edgar Myers, Engineering Corps, Washington, D. C.; Fred D. Clark, according to the last information received he was on his way to France; Victor List, Georgia; Nate Higgins and Edward Melziva. The Class of 1918 glories in these boys who have sacrificed their training at Indiana for that of their country.

New Castle High School; Erodelphian; Y. W. C. A.;
Alpha Sigma Tau

A girl worth knowing.

ELLANOR ESTHER BAILEY, Bulget

Robinson Township High School

You may ask: "Who is that serious looking girl?" Well really she is not so serious when you know her well. She is a true friend to all who know her.

GERTRUDE ELIZABETH BAKER, 1008 Montier street, Wilkinsburg.

Wilkinsburg High School.

Gertrude loves to read. Just mention some work of fiction and see her "look wise." She is a good student, especially in arithmetic, with her numberless "tens."

MARION McMAHON BAMBRICK, 506 Arthur avenue, Scottdale.

Scottdale High School; Color Committee; "His Excellency The Governor;" Phi Delta Phi.

A girl with features that charm millions

CLASS SONG

INDIANA FOR ME

(TUNE: "America for Me.")

I.

The time has come when we must part from the scenes we love so well,
And to our many classmates, we must say a fond farewell,
Dear Alma Mater, thee may we in glory ever see,
We love our school for what she is and what she is to be.

CHORUS: 1ST VERSE

Oh, it's Normal days, and Normal days, Indiana for me,
My heart will turn to Normal, wherever I may be,
In the land of tomorrow, whate'er the future may bring
My heart will turn to Normal, where student voices ring.

II.

It is fine to see old Normal, and wander up and down
Among the famous oak trees, which are of such renown,
And to meet our dear old comrades of class of nineteen eighteen
Which we have held through many years in very high esteem.

CHORUS, 2ND AND 3RD VERSES

So it's home again, and home again, Indiana for me,
My heart is turning home again, and there I long to be
In the land of youth and training, the land of golden dream,
The land of friendly faces in memory softly beam.

III.

I like the dear old buildings, bedecked in ivy green,
I like the blooming roses, as they in Spring are seen,
To hearken to the birds, as they sing among the trees
And just to hear the South wind, as it rustles through the leaves.

JUNIORS

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

At the beginning of the fall term of 1915 about seventy students were enrolled as Freshmen. We were like all other Freshmen, shy and quiet and let other people do the talking while we looked on and listened.

In the fall of 1916 our number was increased to about eighty. We did not take part in the great affairs of the school but looked forward to our Junior year with expectations.

The following year our number was increased by students who had graduated from high school. The first thing of importance was the meeting in Chapel for the purpose of selecting officers. Mr. J. E. Smith, the chairman of the Junior Class, took charge of the meeting. William Bittorf was chosen President; Helen George, Secretary; Charles Johnson, Vice-President; Anetta Bushyager, Treasurer. Brown and Gold were chosen as our class colors.

In the Color Rush which followed a short time after, the Juniors fought bravely and the brown and gold were seen everywhere. We showed the Seniors that we could fight better than they had thought.

Life went on in the usual way after the Rush. Studying and preparing for "exams" seemed to be the main occupation.

After Christmas vacation all the Juniors looked forward to something that was to take place in February. This something turned out to be the Junior Promenade, which was held Saturday evening, February 23rd. Music was furnished by the Nossokoff-Maggio Orchestra from Pittsburgh. The dance ended at half-past eleven and the Juniors departed to their rooms to dream it all over again. It will be remembered by them all as the most wonderful dance of the year.

We are now looking forward to the other pleasant things which take place in our Junior year, especially State Board examinations.

The
CONSERVATORY

In Appreciation of
MARY OLIVE WRIGHT

Critics of the class of 1918 to whom we offer our loyalty.

We found her so rich in the treasure of mind, and of experience, and strength of character, that we could not but make her a sharer in our sorrows, our triumphs, our joys and our fears.

Her joyous courage and unbounded faith in us showed us how to meet failure ourselves.

As she gathers class after class about her, we trace back to her one of the best influences that have come into our lives; making them broad as they are in womanliness.

We would not say "Good-bye" to her, but just "auf wiedersehen."

THE CLASS OF 1918

'Twas the year of 1916
On a cool September morn
That we came to I. S. N. S.
With great hopes newly born.

That night we got to thinking
Of the homefolks all so dear
Which caused of eyes much blinking.
Some frankly shed a tear.

Next day the biggest items
Were making programmes out;
And deciding just which teachers
We would like without a doubt.

'Twas fun to go to classes
To meet other students new,
And time has proven most of them
To be friends tried and true.

We thought at first the time might drag
But Oh, how it did fly!
With classes, studying, parties,
And hikes for a bacon fry.

And Oh, those hikes were such a treat,
As through the woods we'd run.
And Oh, the loads that we would eat,
It surely was great fun.

Soon came the time for the exam,
And, Oh, how we were scared,
For in piano you can't cram,
Though we practiced all we dared.

Soon we left for our vacation
With fond memories in our hearts,
And forgot examinations
That played so great a part.

Next term new friends we greeted,
Up in the conservatory hall;
While at teas we were seated
As happy as if at a ball.

As good and jolly classmates
We liked to entertain,
And in planning lively fetes
The Juniors got into our game.

To our feelings we gave way
At the circus that we had,
How the negro band did play,
Indeed the talent was not bad.

Many things of that year
We after shall recall;
Always we shall hold more dear
Bright visions of conservatory hall.

Now graduation time draws near,
And invitations soon we'll send,
The Seniors all feel mighty queer,
As Normal days draw near the end.

As lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And departing leave behind us
Quotation in the book of time.

So now we take the following chart
To tell you all about our Art.

THE CHART

NAME	NICKNAME	WANTS TO BE	PROBABLY WILL BE	LIKES MOST	NEEDS MOST	FAVORITE SAYING

VESPER CHOIR

The history of the Vesper Choir has been marked by a gradual development which, year by year, has added to the value of its work, and increased its capacity for artistic singing. The important change of the present year was the exclusion from the choir of all except students. The decision has proven a wise one and the choir this year has shown itself superior to that of any previous year. At Christmas time the cantata, "The Shepherd's Vision" by Irene Berge, a talented young composer of great originality and structural skill, was presented. The chorus parts were especially well done, being marked by fluency, fine shading, and very perfect enunciation. The war has made its inroads upon this organization, as upon all others, and the number of men available for this work of the choir has constantly decreased. The Spring term should give frequent musical services of exceptional interest.

THE MADRIGAL CLUB

The Madrigal Club was organized in 1904 for the study of part songs and cantatas. The club frequently gives public programs and the members have acquired enviable reputations as interpreters of standard works for women's voices.

Entrance to the Club is by competition, the best voices in the student body of the school being chosen.

The club consists of thirty young women.

NORMAL PLECTRUM SEXTETT

These players of fretted instruments have done some very creditable work in the last two years, as to the study of ensemble, trio, duo and solo forms. The modern mandolin instrumentation permits of a most excellent breadth and variety. Interpretation and the standard of study done is beyond criticisms.

Trios and duets from the club have appeared in public and the entire sextett will perform in the near future.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

No organization standing for the advancement of humanity can be firm and solid in its ideal unless it has within it that element which uplifts the standards of the individuals involved. So in 1897 this element was introduced into Indiana in the Y. M. C. A. Ever since it has fulfilled in its duty in keeping the boys in touch with the higher and nobler things of life which never could be revealed without such an organization.

Live subjects are discussed at the regular weekly meetings pertaining to the making of the men of tomorrow. Occasionally during the year the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. have conducted a joint meeting in the chapel. The boys take a very active part in the meeting and express themselves in ways that are helpful to their fellow schoolmates. Several talks have been recently given by men of rank which have proved very helpful. The work of the Y. M. C. A. is bearing fruit today and years from now the boys will look back and give credit to the lessons taught in the meetings.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Y. W. C. A. of Indiana was organized in 1897 under the supervision of Miss Leonard, and to her belongs the credit of its success. The enrollment at that time was fifty-seven members. At present it numbers 202. Some faculty members are included in this number whose assistance is of great value to association.

The regular meetings are held on Thursday evenings in the Association Room. The Cabinet meets every Sunday evening to discuss the business of the Association.

In the early part of January we were visited by Miss Ruth Lee Peterson, Student Secretary of the National Board of the Y. W. C. A., who came to us for the purpose of raising a contribution to the Student Friendship War Fund. The school contributed one thousand dollars.

The Y. W. C. A. does not limit its work to what it is able to do in the school, but organizes classes for Bible study in the Sunday Schools of the town.

The work of the Social Service Committee has been greatly hindered by the increased prices of foodstuffs, for their greatest work was carried on by the proceeds from the sale of candy and sandwiches.

Since its day of organization the Y. W. C. A. has held a prominent place in the school. The association affords splendid opportunity for the development of spiritual life through worship and actual service. It stands open to greet all new girls, and it is our wish that they will derive great benefit from it.

LINCOLN DEBATING CLUB

Organized 1909

COLORS—Blue and Gray.

MOTTO—"With Energy and Sleepless Vigilance Go Forward."

The Lincoln Debating Club is considered the organization which benefits its members more than any other society of the Normal School. The Club meets every Monday morning at 10 a. m. during the Fall and Winter terms in Huyghenian Hall. At each meeting a regular debate is held in which six members take part. After this a general discussion of the question debated is called for. During this time any or all of the members are allowed to express their opinions upon the topic debated. This is followed by extemporaneous speaking upon current topics. A strict adherence to parliamentary law is maintained during the meeting.

The Club enjoys the benefits of a critic who is a member of the faculty.

The membership of the Club is limited to thirty-five regular members and an unlimited waiting list. In past years a large waiting list has existed, but owing to unnatural conditions brought about by the war the Club has not had its full quota of members this year.

An annual open meeting is held each year during the Winter term in chapel. These open meetings are always well attended.

ERODELPHIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

Organized 1875

COLORS: Blue and White.

EMBLEM: Crescent and Star.

MOTTO: "Per Aspera ad Astra."

A new era was opened for literary work when, during the Winter term, it was arranged to hold the meetings of both societies on Monday evening instead of Saturday evening. So many lectures, entertainments and other social functions had been held on Saturday evenings that the literary work had been greatly interfered with and interest had almost died out.

The Monday evening plan started off with such enthusiasm as promises to restore the Erodelphean Society to the high place it held in Indiana Normal School life in years gone by. All true blue Erodelpheans should lend their heartiest support to the work and live up to the motto, "Per Aspera ad Astra," and thereby show their appreciation of the privilege of an hour, unmolested, for literary work.

HUYGHENIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

Organized 1875

COLORS: Crimson and Gold.

EMBLEM: Anchor and Chain.

MOTTO: "Search for Truth."

The Huyghenian Literary Society, the largest of its kind in the school, was organized the year the institution opened under the supervision of Miss Leonard. It maintains a high standard in literary entertainment, gives its members experiences in parliamentary practice, and increases a social enjoyment. Within the last four years the society has been largely made up of Seniors who, through it, gain their experience in public speaking. The programs are largely arranged and supervised by Miss Sprowls of the Department of Public Speaking.

The officers are elected for the entire year, with the exception of those of President, Vice President and Recording Secretary, who are elected for a single school term.

TO INDIANA

Under the spreading maple trees
Our stately normal stands,
The school, a mighty one is it
And known in many lands—
For it was built full forty years
By the toil of many hands.

Its buildings tall and vine-entwined,
They are to us so dear
That e'en in winter's snowy days
They seem not cold and drear,
For well we know within their walls
We're sure to find good cheer.

But when we've left these shelt'ring walls
And all their dear domain,
We'll look back on these happy years—
Review their joy and gain,
And show by our achievements
All its efforts not in vain.

We know not what the future brings
When each has gone his way
To answer stern duty's call,
Though it be sad or gay,
But we'll remember all it's done
And in our hearts we'll say:

"Thanks, thanks to thee, old school so dear,
For all that thou has wrought,
For the hours we've spent beneath thy roof
For the knowledge thou hast taught.
May we be worthy of thy name
In every deed and thought."

FOOTBALL

The 1917 Football team was the most successful in the history of the school, besides being one of the greatest scoring machines in the country. In the games played Indiana scored 623 points to opponents' 7.

The Western State Normal School of Kalamazoo, Michigan, rated as the best secondary school in the Middle West, played here on November 20th. This team had defeated Michigan Agricultural College and held the strong team of Michigan University to a 14-10 score. This same team was easily defeated by Indiana by a 40-0 score, giving to us the undisputed U. S. Normal School Championship and also the Scholastic Championship of Pennsylvania.

"Bill" Smith, rated as one of the best athletic coaches in the country, has again turned out a championship team for Indiana. Since he has answered the call of Uncle Sam, leaving a vacancy at Indiana which will be hard to fill. "Bill" will be remembered as a man with a big heart, a ready smile, and he knew his game.

BASKETBALL

The basketball season of 1918 was most successful. There were only two men of last year's team left with us, Captain Wilson and Glassford.

Never in the history of sport of this character at Indiana could the school boast of team work, individual work, and all-around playing that has been displayed by "Bill" Smith's champions.

The team has played one of the hardest schedules in western Pennsylvania and has downed all comers. It is the undisputed team in scholastic circles in this end of the state, and it is doubtful if many teams in the state, college or otherwise, could take the measure of the aggregation that Coach Smith, with his magic touch, whipped into shape early in the season, and kept going at top form until he went away to take up the larger affairs of life as one of Uncle Sam's fighting men. He left behind him, besides a host of friends, a team of which the school is proud and of which he may well feel proud.

BASE BALL

As the "Hustano" goes to press Indiana Baseball prospects look very bright for another victorious season. With only two players left from last year's team Coach Whitmyre must develop practically a new team. Much material is on hand to pick from so it is safe to predict a successful year.

Coach Whitmyre's team bids fair to duplicate what Coach "Bill" Smith's team did last year, that team having defeated Kiski in two games. It holds the Scholastic Championship of Western Pennsylvania.

This year's team started off Saturday, April 27, by applying the white-wash brush to Bellefonte Academy by a nine-to-nothing score.

The 1918 team will meet such teams as Carnegie Tech., Bethany College, Duquesne University, St. Vincent College and St. Huatins College.

1917 RELAY TEAM

BRICKLEY

BUSH

The track team of last season carried off high honors at every meet attended. Creighton, a high jumper of note, cleared the bar consistently at 5 ft. 10 in. His best jump was six feet. Chrise, in the mile and two-mile events, was a performer of stellar calibre. Bush and Radman were sprinters that would grace the uniform of any college. Brickley won the 220 low hurdles over Martin, the unconquered record holder of Pitt University. In the same meet Radman tallied first in the broad jump, while Chrise won the mile.

The greatest success of the year was attained by the relay team at the celebrated Penn Relay Carnival. Excitement reached fever heat the day of the local trials. The men competing were Bush, Radman, Cramer, Lytle, Williams, Fletcher, Creighton and Brickley. Bush, Radman, Brickley and Cramer finished in the order named. Captain Fletcher, who was considered a certain candidate, failed perhaps because of a recent illness. Brickley was the real surprise of the day. Coming forward and pressing the first and second place men until only inches separated them, he proved himself the black horse of the race. At Philadelphia this quartet won easily, having fifty yards lead at the finish. Bush ran his quarter in the record time of 49 3-5 seconds. Brickley's time was but a fraction of a second slower. This time is remarkable and reminds the fans of the work of one Ted Meredith. Radman also ran a spectacular race and Cramer performed in a creditable manner.

The following schools competed: Franklin and Marshall College, Bucknell University, Carlisle Indian School, Gettysburg College, Washington and Jefferson College, Stevens Point Normal School, and Indiana State Normal School.

Elizabeth Knight Eyre, worst defeat in the history of Indiana.

Coach

The majority of last year's squad being back and having a few new ones to break in, we began practice early in the Winter term. With the patient and efficient coaching of Miss Eyre we were ready for our first game by January 26. In this first game with West Newton High School we were defeated 12 to 8. This was no doubt due to a large extent to over confidence.

Finding consolation in the fact that this was our first game we worked a little harder the next week, and February 1 defeated Windber High School 7 to 12. The next day Monessen fell before us 6 to 18. February 9 we easily won from Blairsville, 7 to 23.

We now claimed three victories. The next game was at West Newton. Once more we prepared to defeat them, hoping to be more successful this time. But alas! February 18 will long be remembered, for we lost 42 to 5, the

Coach

We returned a trifle discouraged but resolved to win the remaining six games. This resolution was well kept. Norwin High came to Indiana February 25, and returned to Irwin with a score 10 to 26 in our favor.

Next came the game with California Normal, a bitter rival. Our resolution was fresh in mind. As a result the game ended in our favor, 2 to 20. Despite the fact that the score was one-sided it was a fast game, and some of the best team work of the season was witnessed. This ended our season at home.

A return game with Windber was played March 4. At the end of the allotted time the score was 10 to 10. An extra ten minutes was played, leaving the result 11 to 12 in our favor. On March 8 Blairsville was defeated 5 to 12. California Normal was next defeated 16 to 19 on their own floor, and the next day Monessen was defeated 10 to 13. This was our last game.

The following girls were given I's for participating in the required number of games: Evelyn Bollman, Clara Higgon, Edith Campbell, Alma Nelson, Mildred Barr, Mice Gettys, Pauline Baldwin, Laura Gray.

SENIOR HAY RIDE AND COLOR RUSH

It was the night before the first of October when the Senior and Junior boys met on the battle ground for their annual struggle for supremacy. By careful planning and well-mapped courses the Seniors were victorious over their opponents, and the Senior colors, the Purple and White, floated far above the heads of the Juniors. They floated on the old flag staff, the water tank. Several unsuccessful attempts were made to lower them, but the Seniors stood at their posts and did not give in an inch.

There was no rest for any of the Seniors that night. For miles around all were struggling in the annual contest. The girls cheered their victorious comrades whenever they crossed the campus with a Junior prisoner. From every window in the dormitory the Senior colors waved. A successful school year must naturally be ushered in with great tumult.

Then Aurora brightened the heavens and the day of the Senior Hay Ride had come. At last the wagons appeared on the campus. These were immediately filled with girls, while the boys rode on the wagon bearing the "cats," to guard them, if necessary.

We drove to Idlewood, cheering and singing on the way, with the Purple and White waving in the breeze. It was a glorious sight.

But unfortunately the fates were against us, as well as the wishes of the Juniors, and it rained. But, despite the fact, our spirits were undamped and we enjoyed ourselves to the fullest extent. We ate our lunch and danced to the strains of the stringed instruments. Later we decided to return to Recreation Hall and complete the festivities of the day. So we crowded into the wagons and repeated our journey homeward. For some reason or other a few of the Seniors and of the Faculty ate too much at lunch time, and thus were compelled to walk home because of lack of seating space.

The merriment in Recreation Hall ceased at the call of the dinner bell. The day closed leaving all Seniors, though weary, in a joyful mood, for the Faculty proclaimed no classes for the following day. May this day be ever remembered by those who went on the ride and by those who rode one way and walked the other.

SENIOR MAY RIDE

THE SENIOR DANCE

Last fall our petty troubles and worries were soon supplanted by the rumor of a Senior Prom, which was to be the first real social function of the year. We shall never forget October 27th. From the beginning of the term to the hour of the fete there was joyous exchange of conversation and dances. We classmates can never forget that glorious time.

Our emotions on that day were tumultuous,—preparations, expectations, disappointments (Kiski quarantined), surprises. The most unexpected thing of all was the announcement on the bulletin board: "All Seniors are Excused from the Afternoon Classes." For this joy we are indebted to our principal, Mr. Keith, whose sympathetic interest and presence at the prom we appreciated.

Then for that 2:17 train. The girls nearly broke their North Door vows that day, but, of course, that could not be avoided.

Finally everything was in readiness for the occasion. From the time we entered the receiving line until the "home waltz," we practically forgot everything but the dance. O, that music!—Rhinelander's, the Jazz Orchestra from Pittsburgh! O! that wonderful punch and those unsurpassable decorations,—Hallowe'en witchery in the booth, and Purple and White in the hall. We certainly displayed our colors that night.

Everyone was in his happiest mood until the clock struck 11:30, the time for departure. We know the efforts of a few were put forth to the best of their ability, and we owe the success of this dance to our president and worthy committee. Moreover, we took especial pleasure in the sympathetic presence and interest of Principal and Mrs. Keith.

THE JOINT FRATERNITY DANCE

In accordance with the spirit of the times, the Omega Chi and Phi Alpha fraternities united their annual dances into one, which was given on the last night of the fall term, Friday, December 21. The committee who arranged and executed the plans for this enjoyable event were Paul Buchanan, chairman; Lysle Forsythe and Ross VanAuken from the Omega Chi, and Francis Brophy, William Kellogg and Mart Fowler from the Phi Alpha.

Excellent music was provided. The pennants, banners, and colors of the two fraternities adorning the walls made a fitting background for the scenes of beauty, grace, and happiness. The good fellowship and inter-fraternal spirit which prevailed marked a new era in fraternity ideals in our school. The first inter-fraternity dance having succeeded so well, it is expected that the affair will be continued in the future on the same basis.

THE CHRISTMAS CAROL SERVICES OF THE MODEL SCHOOL

The annual Christmas entertainment by the Model School was given in the form of a carol service, December 19, 1917, at two o'clock, in the Normal Chapel.

The expression of Christmas cheer and good will was marked by excellent abandon of spirit. The chorus work of the children was splendid. Miss Mary Wright, musical directress, we believe, deserves much of the credit for the perfection of detail. The Boys' Glee Club of the Normal assisted by giving "While By My Sheep."

Mr. Colburn directed the Vesper Choir of the Conservatory in "Shepherd's Vision," with Miss Erna McCormick as soloist. Miss McCormick has a strong yet charming stage presence and sings with excellent artistry. Mr. Gold played the part of an understanding and sympathetic Santa Claus, who arrived on his visit to the children by coming down the huge brick chimney.

The delight of the fairies and brownies dancing around the beautiful Christmas tree made a picture that carried all of the old and young in the packed audience into the Land of Peace and Good Will to Men.

Miss Ackerman and her corps of able teachers may well be proud.

THE JUNIOR DANCE

The first event of any importance to the Juniors of this year took place in Recreation Hall, February 23. About one hundred fifty of the sterner sex (although they could not be so termed that night) waited patiently in the hall and in the Green Room for their daintily costumed partners to appear. About eight o'clock the merriment began and the enchanting strains of Noskoff-Maggio's Orchestra chased away the time until we were warned by the "home waltz" that the respectable hour of 11:30 had come.

What a wail of woe ascended when we realized that the dance was over! As a side comment many were heard to utter, "Oh, I wish it were only beginning." Since the evening had been especially pleasant a great many of the visiting gallants seemed rather reluctant to leave. They were entertained the next day until four o'clock and then as every Romeo departed a Juliet's heart was saddened. Since the dance was so great a success we are indebted to the president of the class and to the committee.
